Advancing Bicycling in the Capital Region
Workshop on September 23rd.

The Local Government Commission, in partnership with the Sacramento Metropolitan Air Quality Management District, is organizing a one-day workshop on what can be done to take bicycling to the next level in the Capital Region. Registration is NOW OPEN for this event; visit <http://www.lgc.org/advancing-bicycling> to learn more and register.

About the Workshop

This event will highlight best practices from across the nation and promote a dialogue and action among approximately 250 local elected officials; local, regional and state transportation planners, local land use planners, public works staff, active transportation advocates, public health professionals, businesses representatives and other community leaders.

Confirmed keynote speakers include Malcolm Dougherty, Director of the California Department of Transportation; Mike McKeever, CEO of the Sacramento Area Council of Governments; Vice Mayor David Sander of the City of Rancho Cordova; and Charles Gandy, President of Livable Communities Inc.

Workshop topics will include:

- The Economic and Business Benefits of Bicycling
- Advancing Bicycling in Underserved Communities
- Changing the Culture around Bicycling
- Successful Bicycle Share Programs
- Bikeway Design Best Practices
- Expanding Networks to Job Centers
- Making Bicycling a Viable Transportation Option in Rural and Suburban Settings

Don't miss this opportunity to connect with a comprehensive network of leaders who share a commitment to advancing bicycling in our region.
