Shared Services for Human Resources

Issue: How should SACOG approach shared services for human resources?

Discussion: Last year, the Shared Services and New Initiatives Task Force identified a Regional Compensation Survey as one of eight concept proposals to pursue. Staff is considering how to engage local human resources staff to develop a more systematic approach to helping member agencies.

Staff is planning to invite local human resources staff to meet at several locations within the region to talk about their needs and where shared services may benefit them. Staff also intends to share information about several cost-saving options for a regional compensation survey, and how that could be developed in a way to meet the needs of all interested members. After talking with local staff, SACOG staff will come back to the Innovation Task Force with a proposal for which shared services would make sense for SACOG to pursue.
